RACING

November starts this week.
Edgewood is ready begin Frozen racing.
Sundays now through February.

Up from a nearly devestating fire in January, the Edgewood Yacht Club [2] has done an amazing re-build at the basic level.

And in the spirit, the Club and the Sailing School have just announced they are enthusiastically endorsing our sport by hosting another winter frostbite season: the Club and the School extend a welcome-back invitation to all the sailors who want to be part of the Edgewood Frozen Few.

With that, Sunfish and FrozenFew have begun to appear on FaceBook, and at the Club and the Sailing School websites -- bringing the weekly racing scores, weather, and all the Frozen News and photos. Plus, the search is on for skippers.

To get yourself on the water and join the action, please check out "How to get on the water for Frozen Racing [3]."

The Race Committee will lead the action from the dock and from the safety-boat, according to these linked NOR and the SI.
